1.) Start with PCA

design_matrix <- design_matrix[,-1]</pre>

Remove observations from hitters that have missing values in salary

remove salary missing values

data_hitters <- data_hitters[complete.cases(data_hitters[c("Salary")]),] use model.matrix() to create a design matrix based of the formula salary~.

create the design matrix

design_matrix <- model.matrix(Salary ~ ., data = data_hitters)

remove the intercept column from design matrix

remove the first column of ones</pre>

standardize the model matrix of responses to create X

standardize the design matrix
X <- scale(design_matrix)</pre>

Use svd() to get singular value decomposition of  $X = UDV^T$

singular decomposition
decomp <- svd(X)</pre>

compute the principal components Z from the from the standardized X and the eigenvectors V

principal components
Z <- X %*% decomp$v</pre>

Confirm that you pc's match the pcr fit$scores

check equivalence of both methods
round(pcr_fit$scores, digits = 4) == round(Z, digits = 4)

2. PC Regression on the first component

use the first component to compute regression y on  $z_1$ , so we obtain first per coefficient  $b_1$  by

$$b_1 = (z_1^T z_1)^{-1} z_1^T y$$

then compute predicted values  $y_hat = b_1z_1$  compare your fitted values against the fitted values from pcr which is pcr_fit$fitted.values[, , 1] which is the fitted response using PC1 provided by pcr

response vector
Y <- data_hitters$Salary
first pcr coefficient
b_1 <- solve(t(Z[,1]) %% Z[,1]) %% t(Z[,1]) %*% Y
pcr fitted value for component 1
y_hat_comp1 <- b_1 * Z[,1]</pre>
check with pcr fitted values
round(y_hat_comp1 + mean(Y), digits = 4) == round(pcr_fit$fitted.values[, , 1], digits = 4)

PCR coefficients in terms of predictor variables

You can rewrite the regression of PC1 in terms of the response variables as:  $y_{hat} = X (b_1 v_1)$  where  $v_1$  is the loading associated with the first PC aka the first column of V also  $b_1^{star} = b_1 v_1$  is the vector of regression coefficients in terms of the predictors In general, the PC regression coefficients can be expressed in terms of the predictors as:

$$b_k^{star} = V_k D_k^{-1} U_k^T Y$$

Where the index k indicates matrices associated to the first k components

calculate b_1*
b_1star <- b_1 * decomp$v[,1]
check that the vector matches coefficients from pcr round(b_1star, digits = 4) == round(pcr_fit$coefficients[, , 1], digits = 4)
